PEACE TALK.

SOME ANTI-STRIKE FACTORS.

ABSIDU DEMANDS.

With regard to the talk of an early cessation of the strike and boycott in Canton, we learn from a gentleman who has just returned from that port that the atmosphere is far less tense than it has been for some time past. Everywhere the cessation of the strike is being freely talked about, even amongst the strike pickets, whilst in localities which are off the main thoroughfares, and therefore not open to pickets' activities, many Chinese servants have returned to European residences.

As to the reasons for the probable collapse of the movement, reports are current to the effect that many of the strikers are now at cross purposes with General Chang Kai-shek in consequence of the latter having commenced to draft all able-bodied men fit for military service into the Army of the Kuomintang. This action being compulsory, many of the strikers have made their escape into the interior to avoid being drafted.

It is also said that Gen. Chang Kai-shek has ordered the so-called Special Tribunal, which was instituted by the Strike Committee for dealing with all cases of attempts to break through the cordon set up by the strike pickets, to be abolished, General Chang ordering that all such cases must be handed over to the police to be dealt with.

Moreover, the daily payment for the maintenance of the strike has reached the big sum of $15,000 per day which General Chang thinks could be employed to train a large army to carry out the military scheme which has been adopted by the Government. It is reported that General Chang Kai-shek will shortly withdraw the maintenance allowance to the strikers.

Apart from the above actions taken against the strikers by Gen. Chang, no one has been found capable of working for their interests since the assassination of the late Liao Chung-kai, who was their patron and protector. Under such circumstance, it is not difficult to see that the present dissatisfaction amongst the strikers may shortly reach a crucial point. These factors explain why the vigilance of strike pickets has eased off and so many people are allowed to cross the boundary by the payment of a small sum of money to the pickets.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.

As to the actual negotiations, it is stated that the Strike Committee has sent a notice to all its branches to send delegates to attend a meeting to be held at the Headquarters of the Kuomintang on the 12th October for the purpose of confirming the resolution passed by the members of the Merchants' Guilds, Labour and Strike Unions and to discuss the terms and conditions under which the Strike is to be called off. The agenda is divided into two parts, one of which, called the external issue, relates to the Shanghai, Hankow and Shamen incidents, and the other, called the internal issue, deals with the terms and conditions for the settlement of the strike in Canton, Hongkong and Macao. It is reported that Tan Ping-shan has been appointed to represent the Government to prepare and present suggestions for discussion at the coming meeting of the Labour and Strike Unions.

RIDICULOUS DEMANDS.

The strike organisations in Canton are making absurd demands for a settlement of the trouble, those relating to Hongkong strikers including freedom of meeting; re-

LICENCE RENEWAL.

EUROPEAN MOTORISTS SUMMONED.

Failure to renew motor licences which became due on the 1st July, but a period of one month's grace being granted by the Traffic Department owing to the strike, formed the subject of a number of summonses against local drivers, before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Kowloon Magistrate this morning.

Mr. A. Fothergill answered a summons against Mr. D. H. Cameron and said that the breach of the regulations was an oversight, due to the strike.

In reply to the Magistrate, Mr. Fothergill said that the car was the property of the Standard Oil Company, but the licence was taken out in the name of Mr. Cameron. His Worship pointed out that Mr. Cameron, in whose name the summons was taken out, should have appeared or been represented by a solicitor.

Mr. Fothergill replied that no disrepect was intended by Mr. Cameron.

A fine of $5 was imposed. Two summonses against Mr. M. P. Jones were for similar offences and defendant was fined $5 on one charge, and cautioned on the other.

A charge of dangerously driving his motor cycle along Chatham Road on the 17th instant was preferred against Mr. D. S. Edward of the P.W.D.

The defendant said that he had been summoned as driver of motorcycle 567, but he sold the machine at the end of May to Mr. R. J. B. Clark, also of the P.W.D. Whether the change of ownership was registered he was unable to say, but he thought the cycle was resold by Mr. Clark.

The summons was dismissed.

SHANGHAI ENQUIRY.

U. S. COMMISSIONER HERE.

Mr. Justice E. Finlay Johnson, of the Philippines Supreme Court, who is the American Commissioner to the Judicial Enquiry into the Shanghai riot, arrived this morning on the President Madison from Manila.

He was met on arrival by Sir Henry Gollan, the British Commissioner, who was accompanied by Mr. R. C. Tredwell, the American Consul.

The President Madison leaves for Shanghai to-morrow and Sir Henry Gollan and Mr. Justice Finlay Johnson will go together.

CHINESE AT MOSCOW.

TO STUDY SOVIET CONDITIONS.

Moscow, Sept. 28. The Chinese delegation sent by Marshal Feng Yu-hsia has arrived. They will study political and economic conditions in the Soviet Republic. The delegation is headed by Gen. Sung Ping, the chief of the general staff of the Christian General's army and it includes other Marshals and secretaries. The party will probably remain in Moscow for a month and then will proceed to Western Europe.—Reuter.

opening of all closed Labour Guilds; abolition of flogging and capital punishment; the application of the elective system in regard to Chinese serving on the Legislative Council; an eight-hour day with minimum wages; re-instatement of all strikers; with strike pay; release of all arrested strikers; cancellation of banishment orders against strikers; a 25 per cent reduction in all rentals; and compensation for all strikers.

Various demands are also made in regard to Hongkong students, including the right of all student strikers to return to their schools.

There is also a series of demands in regard to Shamen, these including free use of the Shamen Bund by Chinese, and the employment of none but Chinese on the Shamen Police Force.

MILITARY CAPTAIN ON TRIAL.

OVER-INDULGENCE IN ALCOHOL.

A General Court Martial assembled at the Command Library this morning for the trial of Captain Eric Sutton Dickin, Army Dental Corps. The Court was composed of Colonel C. Russell-Brown, D.S.O., R.E., as President, with the following members:—Lieut.-Col. F. S. Montagu-Bates, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., of the 1st Bn, East Surrey Regt.; Lt.-Col. G. F. S. Tuke, D.S.O., R.A.; Major W. P. A. Hattersley-Smith, D.S.O., R.A.; Lt.-Col. E. E. B. Mackintosh, D.S.O., R.E., and Major F. G. Hyland, M.C., R.E. The Judge Advocate was Major R. S. S. Paton, 1st Bn, East Surrey Regt., and the Prosecutor, Captain C. J. F. Bensley, R.A.

Captain Dickin, who was represented by Mr. L. D. Turner, was charged with conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, on September 2nd last, in that he became unfit for duty owing to previous indulgence in alcohol. He pleaded "not guilty."

At the outset, Mr. Turner objected to the wording of the charge, "by reason of previous indulgence", maintaining that the defence was hampered through inability to define "previous indulgence" in this context. How far back was "previous" intended to go?

The President referred Mr. Turner to a portion of the Manual of Military Law in which an authorised charge sheet was given as an example and it contained the same wording as in this charge. The objection was, therefore, disallowed.

ALCOHOLIC POISONING.

The Prosecutor said that the prosecution would prove that the accused had been unfit for duty on the date mentioned and subsequently was treated in hospital for alcoholic poisoning. The witnesses for the prosecution would all be medical officers.

The first witness to be called was Lieut.-Col. F. G. Fitzgerald, the Officer Commanding the Royal Army Medical Corps, China Command.

He said that on September 2nd, he visited the Military Hospital at Bowen Road about 8.45 a.m. and enquired if Capt. Dickin had arrived. Capt. Dickin was not there. Witness waited until 9.20 when the accused arrived in a chair. Witness told him to go before the Hospital C.O. (Major Lewis) and there he examined him medically. Among Capt. Dickin's symptoms were the following:—He was dazed, his tongue was thickly coated and tremulous, and his upper lip was also tremulous. On his extending both hands they showed marked tremors. Both knee jerks were absent. Cerebration was very slow. His breath was foul and smelling of liquor. His gait was uncertain. Witness did not consider him in a state to carry out his duties and informed him that he considered his condition was due to chronic alcoholic poisoning. He had him placed under open arrest and sent to hospital.

Questioned by the prosecution, witness said he had known Capt. Dickin for nearly three years. He came out on board the same ship with him to Hongkong. He noticed accused was partial to alcohol and spent most of his time in the bar when it was open. Since arriving here, on two or three occasions, witness had had him up officially in his office and had spoken to him and warned him of the seriousness of over-indulgence in alcohol. On one occasion, witness brought the accused up before the G. O. C., who spoke to Capt. Dickin and warned him. Capt. Dickin asked General Fowler (then G. O. C.) to have him transferred from Hongkong, as he found it so difficult to give up drinking. General Fowler said he was unable to comply. Accused left the G. O. C.'s office stating that he would try to take a pull on himself.

ECONOMY "AXE".

NO MORE TRADE RETURNS.

SCHEMES DROPPED.

In connection with the Government's campaign of economy now being conducted in order to bring the Colony's expenditure nearer to the level of its reduced income, certain decisions have been come to which will not only greatly interest the public but also possibly call for some criticism. It is now widely known that the Government's income has fallen off tremendously—that in July it fell to an extremely low level and that for the month of August a very large sum of money had to be obtained from London in order to make up the difference between receipts and outgoings.

The revenue for September will also be very much below last year's figure and it is extremely doubtful if the revenue for the remainder of this year and the better part of next year will be anything like the pre-strike scale. Many economies have had to be made and these will, doubtless, all be revealed in the Budget speech due to be delivered by His Excellency the Governor during the coming month.

TRADE STATISTICS.

One of the economies known to be contemplated and practically agreed upon is the abolition of the statistical office of the Imports and Exports Department on the ground that the cost is out of all proportion to the value and benefit of the information collected. It will be remembered that before the war Hongkong did not bother to record what was the value or quantity of its imports and exports, but that as the war made the filling in of import and export forms compulsory it was felt, after the war was over, that the practice of putting on record the port's trade statistics should be made a permanent one, as the information so collected and tabulated was of value both to individual traders and the Colony as a whole as providing an index either of prosperity, growth or contraction. Importers and exporters ever since have been required to fill in forms giving quantities and values before permits have been granted and it is from these forms that the trade returns have been compiled and published quarterly. We learn that the annual cost of this work (including the cost of publishing the returns) is round about $70,000, as quite a staff of clerks is necessary to handle the immense number of forms which come in. The number of copies of the printed returns sold is said to be quite small, the Committee of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce is said to have agreed to the Government's suggestion to abolish the statistical office, the leading Bank say that the returns are of no value to them and so the decree has gone forth that, as from October 1st, there will be no more trade statistics compiled. No doubt some traders will regret the passing of the returns and it is open to argument whether or not the Government ought to consider the compiling of trade statistics an integral part of routine administration and not something which can be taken up and dropped as finances rise or fall. For the moment we will content ourselves by giving the news.

SCHEMES ABANDONED.

It has already been announced that the rebuilding scheme of Queen's College has been postponed and also the rebuilding of the Victoria British School, and we further learn that the scheme of re-building the large plot of ground upon which stands the Sailor's Home at West Point and re-housing times.

NAVAL CHANGES.

"HERMES" FORMER COMMANDER.

On Aug. 31 Captain the Hon. Arthur Stopford, C.M.G., began temporary service in the Naval Intelligence Division at the Admiralty. Captain Stopford was until recently in command of the aircraft-carrier Hermes. Commander C. W. Timson, O.B.E., who was appointed to the Dryad, navigation school ship at Portsmouth, from Aug. 31 until Sept. 25, commanded the surveying ship Iroquois in China for three years before last February.

The appointment dates from Aug. 29 of Paymaster-Commander L. S. Brown to be Secretary to Rear-Admiral and Senior Naval Officer in the Yangtze. Prompted in January last, while serving as Secretary to the Captain-In-Charge at Portland, Paymaster-Commander Brown served in the war on the staff of Admiral Sir George Patey, in the Australia, Leviathan, and Caesar, and also in the Australian cruiser Melbourne, while in 1918 he was secretary to Rear-Admiral E. F. Bruen in the Minotaur. He succeeds Paymaster-Lieutenant Commander E. A. Symes, who has served during the two years that Rear-Admiral D. Murray Anderson has held the command. The latter is now being succeeded by Rear-Admiral J. E. Cameron, C.B., M. V. O. Paymaster-Lieutenant G. W. Best, from the Commodore's office at Portsmouth Naval Depot, is also appointed to the gunboat Bee to assist the Secretary.

The cruiser Diomede, Captain C. E. Kennedy-Purvis, arrived at Portsmouth on Aug. 29 from China, where she has been serving since her completion in 1922. The vessel was commissioned for the first time for service on Oct. 2, 1922, so that by the time she is paid off her term will have extended to nearly three years instead of the normal two-and-a-half. The place of the Diomede has temporarily been taken by the Concord, Captain A. R. W. Woods, D.S.O., from the Mediterranean, until such time as the large cruiser Vindictive, Captain G. F. Hyde R.A.N., arrives on the station. The Diomede will be transferred to the New Zealand Government, which a year ago offered to maintain a second cruiser of the same type as the Dunedin, already out there.

The home in a new building near Signal Hill, Kowloon, has been put back for at least two years. It was the announced intention of the Government to build a new police station on the site of the Sailors' Home and this will also have to be held in abeyance. The resumption of the plot of land on which stands the World Theatre and the extension of the Harbour Office premises was also contemplated, but this scheme has, with others, been postponed. In many other ways, especially in matters of development, there have been big cuts in original programmes, and it is certain that the Budget speech of this year will be one of the most interesting ever presented by any Governor.

In connection with the Sanitary Department we learn that the economies effected will entail the continuance of the hand-cart dust collections in the City instead of collection by motor lorries as was contemplated. More barges for the dumping of the refuse at sea were to have been required but will not now be bought, and all such schemes as the provision of new markets and new latrines have been postponed. One of the new markets was to have been in Soond Street, Saiping, and, although considered to be much needed, will have to wait until more prosperous times.

FROM KONGMOON.

STEAMERS REACH MACAO.

Two small steamers have arrived at Macao Harbour from Kongmoon during the last two days and in their coming has received communication between Kongmoon and Hongkong. This is the view of a local ship's officer, who told a Telegraph representative this morning that the s.s. Paul Beau brought over five hundred passengers from Macao and practically everyone of them appeared to have come from Kongmoon and other up-country districts.

The appointment dates from Aug. 29 of Paymaster-Commander L. S. Brown to be Secretary to Rear-Admiral and Senior Naval Officer in the Yangtze. Prompted in January last, while serving as Secretary to the Captain-In-Charge at Portland, Paymaster-Commander Brown served in the war on the staff of Admiral Sir George Patey, in the Australia, Leviathan, and Caesar, and also in the Australian cruiser Melbourne, while in 1918 he was secretary to Rear-Admiral E. F. Bruen in the Minotaur. He succeeds Paymaster-Lieutenant Commander E. A. Symes, who has served during the two years that Rear-Admiral D. Murray Anderson has held the command. The latter is now being succeeded by Rear-Admiral J. E. Cameron, C.B., M. V. O. Paymaster-Lieutenant G. W. Best, from the Commodore's office at Portsmouth Naval Depot, is also appointed to the gunboat Bee to assist the Secretary.

The vessels which arrived at Macao must have slipped away from Kongmoon secretly, he stated, as the strike there shows few signs of relaxing.

TWO ACCIDENTS.

COAL COOLIE KILLED.

A coal coolie died from injuries received in an accident occurring on the Un Long-Mongkok Road yesterday. Near the Chiu Ki Garage, two little girls ran in front of the car, and one of them was knocked down by a tram, and a serious wound was caused to his head, from which he died. The remains have been taken to the Mortuary.

SOVIET AND GERMANY.

M. CHICHERIN'S HINT.

Warsaw, Sept. 28. That the Soviets will revise their attitude towards Germany in the event of the latter acceding to the Allied request to join the League without reservation, was stated by M. Chicherin when seen by Reuter en route to Germany to take a two months' "cure." M. Chicherin pointed out that acceptance of articles sixteen and seventeen of the League Covenant might eventually compel Germany to act against the Soviets. M. Chicherin at present is endeavouring to persuade Poland to settle the few outstanding Polish-Soviet differences.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

FRANCE'S DEBT TO AMERICA.

London, September 25.

While Washington despatches are optimistic in regard to the prospect of the Franco-American debt settlement, Paris is doubtful and some papers even anticipate the failure of the negotiations. The despatches from French correspondents at Washington, however, speak of the new French proposal as possibly providing for initial annual payments of thirty instead of twenty-five million dollars, increasing in a decade to a maximum of approximately a hundred million, payable in fifty-two years instead of ninety. The Americans are now said to be ready to agree to maximum annuities of 120 million dollars. M. Caillaux is said to have assured Mr. Mellon that no payment would be made to Britain and no Franco-British arrangement will be concluded without identical payment and arrangement with America. The incident of the loan to the Bank of France is reported to be settled.—Reuter.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Geneva, September 28.

The Council of the League of Nations has appointed an Estonian, General Leidoner as commissioner to investigate the Mosul deportations. He will be assisted by a Czechoslovakian Lieutenant Colonel.

M. Majliss, the Minister of Public works has declared that though the Government urgently supplied provisions in order to remove the general alarm, it has been found that the recent troubles, though based on a pretext of the lack of provisions, had other motives. The Government have decided to investigate the matter and to punish the instigators of the riots and to prevent fresh outbreaks.—Reuter.

THE PRINCE'S DEPARTURE.

Mar del Plata, September 28.

On the eve of the departure of the Prince of Wales he banqueted President Alvear on board H. M. S. Repulse, which was brilliantly illuminated. MEXICAN ELECTION RIOTS.

Vera Cruz, September 28.

One person was killed and fifty wounded in rioting the municipal elections. HONGKONG WEMBLEY.

BRIGHTER BUSINESS.

Hon. Mr. Halifax "At Home."

The " erstwhile 'slump' at the British Empire Exhibition has been followed of late by daily attendances that have been gratifying to the officials and all concerned at both the Malayan and Hongkong pavilions. Malaya and Hongkong have never looked more animated than during the last few weeks. A Hongkong official declared that much better business has been done lately, and that every hope is entertained for a continuance of the same until the pavilion closes. It is expected, says the China Express and Telegraph of Sept. 3rd, that as was the case last year, the Hongkong section will close a month earlier than the general exhibition, this step having been decided on principally in order that the Chinese employees may leave for home before the cold weather sets in.

In this connection the Commissioner and Mrs. Halifax are to be "at Home" at the Pavilion on September 22, from 4 to 6, when it is expected there will be a large gathering of Hongkongites, a sort of reunion-like last year. Scores of letters and verbal inquiries are being received daily by the Wembley officials asking whether the exhibition will go on next year, in spite of the definite official statement many months ago that the gates will close for good at the end of October. An official statement has again been issued to the effect that there is no intention whatever to continue next year. This was quite definitely stated by the Duke of York in his speech made very shortly after the exhibition opened.

Giving evidence of the condition of the lorry when examined by the police, Sergeant Saunders said that he found the gear of the lorry in low and the hand brakes applied. He could not say if the lorry had been in that condition before the accident or if it had been tampered with by the coolies. He tested the brakes of the vehicle and found both the hand and foot brakes in good condition, and on an incline such as the Wellington Street gradient the application of the hand brake alone was sufficient to hold the lorry, but he did not think it prudent to leave the car on such a slope without applying the footbrake as well.

At this juncture the case was adjourned till this afternoon. Beckhampton Handicap—"A" Class 1 1/4 Miles—Duke of Frisco, 163 lbs.; Jambu, 161 lbs.; Beldorney Star, 159 lbs.; Saracen, 159 lbs.; Uncle Alf, 157 lbs.; Langsat, 155 lbs.; Mowgli, 154 lbs.; Two Pairs, 153 lbs.; Teashop, 149 lbs.; Parran II, 146 lbs.; Solly, 145 lbs.; Quab, 144 lbs.

CHINA FLOODS.

ANOTHER DYKE BREAKS.

Peking, September 28.—The China International Famine Relief Committee reports a further break in the main south dyke of the Yellow River, ten miles to the west of Shihliu which has resulted in the worst flood of the river since 1887. The effect of the first break on the 13th August, which was announced some time ago, was only to flood an area of approximately four hundred square miles between the inner and outer dykes.

This later disaster has resulted in the unrestricted flow of the river southward where a part of it may reach the Yangtze through the grand Canal. There is a bare possibility that the river may entirely change its course.

The Executive Secretary Mr. Mallory, who with the chief engineer, Mr. Todd, has just returned from an inspection trip, announces that probably fifteen hundred square miles of land are already under water and that two million people are more or less affected. Autumn crops have been destroyed and probably hundreds of people drowned.

Every hour the extent of the flooded area is increasing and the flow of the river is the only limiting factor to the extent of the catastrophe. The China International Famine Relief Committee at Shantung has opened up relief work with Yuncheng as a centre, and steps are being taken to enlarge the scope of these activities in the need increases.—Reuter.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPORT.

Little Change.

The Fortnightly Price Current and Market Report, published by the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, states—

Cotton piece goods and fancy cotton goods.—Hopes that the anti-Red victory in Swatow might lead to early improvement in off-take from this market have not as yet materialized, and generally speaking there is but little change to report in conditions ruling the past three months. Boycott in Canton and West River Ports continues unabated, and clearances are practically nil. Mid. Am. was quoted 12.84 in Liverpool 24th instant Eg. Sakel £8.00.

Cotton yarn.—In the early part of the fortnight the market ruled somewhat dull, but the news of the strike in Bombay Cotton Mills has strengthened the position of our market and better feeling prevailed. About 1,500 bales have changed hands at an improvement of $1 to $3 per bale.

Nominal quotations are as follows:

No. 10s, $188/200. No. 12s, $190/204. No. 16s, $220/234. No. 20s, $220/235.

REVENUE OFFICER'S CASE.

THE PEACE OF CHINA.

BRITISH PLANTS RESUME WORK.

KOWLOON OFFICER IGNORED BY SUBORDINATE.

GOVERNMENT MAKING GREAT EFFORTS.

Case Again Adjourned.

Before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday the case of the Chinese revenue officer who is charged by the Crown with attempting to obtain by threats a sum of $100 from the Wong Woo Sung Distillery, was returned from a visit to Feng Yu-hsiang and is now variously reported to be visiting Yuen Wel-chun or Sun Chuan-fang. Yen Chen, the special delegate to Honan, has wired saying that Yuen Wel-chun has assured him of his peaceful intentions. Teng Han-hsiang, after interviewing Li Ching-lin and obtaining his peaceful assertions has gone on to see Hsia Yao-nan.

Continuing his evidence in chief the defendant said that he was given the money by the complainant in the nature of a bribe. He had made no reference to any money to the complainant on any occasion. Answering the Crown defendant said that he had received certain information concerning the complainant's distillery and he reported his information to the senior Chinese revenue officer in Hongkong, although he was under the supervision of R. O. Lanigan in Kowloon. The two informants were employees in the complainant's wine shop.

Mr. Hamilton: In other words you ignored your superior officers in Kowloon and went straight to the officers in Hongkong? The defendant made a reply to the effect that even had he reported to R. O. Lanigan, the information would necessarily have to be reported to the officers in Hongkong?

After further evidence the case was adjourned.

Shanghai Flood.

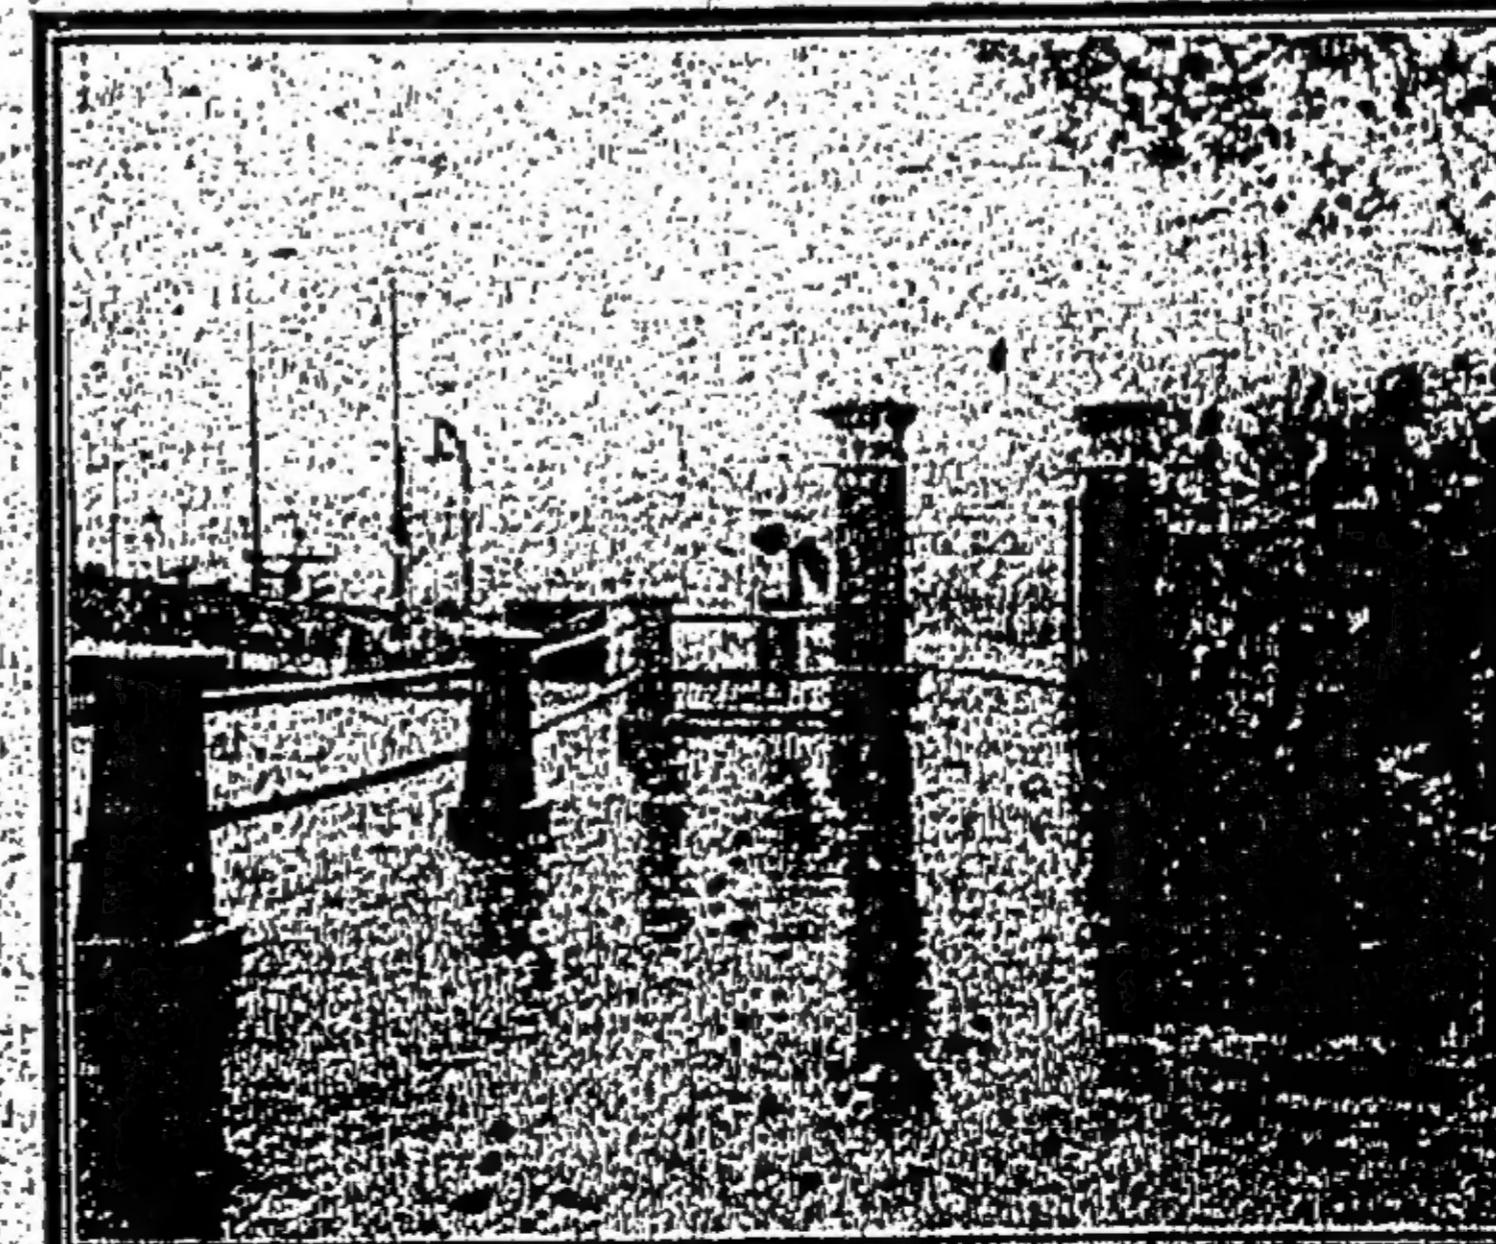

This picture of the Szechuan Road under water was snapped as one looks towards Kiuklung Road from Hankow Road, Shanghai. In places the water was a foot deep and near the American Woman's Club it was particularly bad. Creek Overflows.

Taken in the Public Gardens, this picture shows the height of the water along the Soochow Creek side of the promenade during the recent storm. The typhoon signal was up for over thirty-six hours during which time Shanghai experienced high winds which uprooted trees and blew down shop signs, and which caused the river to overflow on the foreshore.

NO SURRENDER.

Although the news that a delegation from Chinese merchant organisations in Hongkong has gone to Canton to negotiate with the strikers regarding a full return to normality does of itself give rise to pleasurable anticipations of a speedy end to the present conditions of strike and boycott, it also gives rise to a little misgiving. When merchants (who are employers) go to negotiate with strikers (who are workers) there is a very grave risk of all such matters as wages, strike pay, etc., being discussed, although it cannot be too strongly emphasised that in this instance there can be nothing to discuss so far as such things are concerned. Hongkong's workers did not leave their jobs and go to Canton in their thousands because of any dissatisfaction with their terms of service. They had made no complaints and no demands, and they made themselves the willing victims of a wave of anti-foreignism which swept through China, the directors of which persuaded the workers that they were valiant patriots in so selflessly giving up their jobs under the "Imperialists" and leaving them to suffer as they might. It was either one of two things which caused Hongkong's workers to pour out of the Colony in the late days of June or the early days of July—either patriotism or funk. And every man will individually decide which of these two supplied the motive power according to personal pre-conceived conceptions. No one will or can decide that the workers went out because of any industrial grievance. For three months the leaders of the strikers have been doing all in their power to throttle the trade of the Colony, to starve us out, to keep away our willing servants and, by the spread of lying propaganda, have sought to besmirch our honour. Now, when their efforts at Hongkong's destruction have signally failed and when, no doubt, they and the people of Canton generally are feeling the pinch of the strike and boycott so much that they wish it ended, the strike leaders have magnanimously permitted themselves to receive a deputation from Hongkong merchants who wish to discuss the possibility of a "settlement."

There can be no such thing as a "settlement" in the ordinarily accepted use of such word when related to strikes because this has not been a strike but a labour boycott voluntarily undertaken by a lot of misguided and misdirected workmen. All that these men can decide to do is to give up their mid-summer madness and come back and apply for their jobs, trusting to luck that their old employers want them. Lots of the men are due for a disappointment, for their positions have either been filled by someone else or the employer has decided that he can do without some of those he previously thought necessary. Under no circumstances should there be any discussion regarding rise in pay, or the payment of wages sacrificed by leaving employment without notice or the payment of strike pay. Many of the men will have to accept lower wages if we judge the temper of employers aright.

If the attendance of a delegation of Hongkong merchants and employers in Canton can do any good in bringing about an early resumption of normal conditions of labour and trade between Hongkong and Canton we have no objection to its going and would wish it the best of luck. But if that delegation is going to discuss anything extraneous to a surrender by the strikers and boycotters, then we do not hesitate to say that it would have been better if it had never gone.

Mischiefous Propaganda.

If there is one characteristic more pronounced than another about the Soviet, it is to be found in its determination to stir up trouble in other countries. This it mostly does through the medium of selected propagandists, who appear to be sent all over the world with the one object of spreading the doctrines of destruction and class hatred. At the moment, special emphasis is apparently being laid on the campaign in the Orient, for scarcely a day passes in which there is not revealed some plot in this part of the world. Over the week-end came the story of the apprehension of a Russian diplomatic courier en route to China with bombs and $50,000 (gold) in his possession; and now, to-day, reports come from Tokyo of the discovery that the Soviet labour delegates handed Japanese Socialists no less a sum than Yen 1,300,000 before visiting the country. One fact which must strike the observer about the activities of the Bolsheviks is that these propagandists always seem to be very flush with funds. If the total amount of money spent by the Soviet in propaganda since the Revolution could be computed, we imagine that the sum would represent a huge total. We know that for some years past Soviet money has been pouring into Canton, but that can only be a tithe of what is spent by the paid agents of the Moscow Government. Other countries, of course, have no right to dictate to Russia the form of government she cares to adopt; neither can they pretend to say what political creed the Russians shall put into force. But they have a very distinct right to object to propaganda outside Russia which seeks to overthrow constituted authority and create internal disaffection. It is because the Soviet encourages such activities that Bolshevism is a menace to peace and good order; and it is high time that joint representations were made to Russia to put an end to its mischievous campaigns in the Far East and other parts of the world.

Chinese Wireless.
There is a growing storm in China quite apart from the strike and boycott questions, and affecting a matter which came up for consideration several years ago—

DAY BY DAY.

CIVILITY COSTS NOTHING AND BUYS EVERYTHING.—Lady Montague.

His Lordship D. José da Costa Nunes, the Bishop of Macao, is spending about two weeks at Hongkong. During his stay here he will reside at the French Procurator.

The silk forwarded from here by the Empress of Canada on the 4th September arrived in New York (St. John's Park) on the 25th, September, having been 21 days in transit.

Among the appointments to the Colonial Service made by the Secretary of State for the Colonies during the month ended Aug. 10th, is the following—Hongkong: Mr. C. H. G. Bradley, Assistant Auditor.

Vice-Admiral Macado e Ceuto has been relieved of his command of the Portuguese warships now at Macao, owing to the revolt of July 19, in which his ship, the Vasco da Gama, a vessel well known in Hongkong and Macao, took an active part.

A Japanese, named Tashima, appeared before Mr. E. W. Hamill, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, on a charge of being drunk and incapable in Haiphong Road at six o'clock last night. Accused, pleaded guilty and was fined $8; or, in default, ten day's hard labour.

At the Hongkong Lodge the Theosophical Society, 7, Duddell Street, the 78th Birthday Celebration of Dr. Annie Besant, President T.S., will take place, on Wednesday September 30th, at 6 p.m. sharp. Friends and those interested are invited to be present.—Advertiser.

The following were among the candidates declared successful at the recent examination by the Civil Service Commissioners for admission to the Police Force of Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, the Federated Malay States, and Hongkong:—T. D. Ogier, F. O. Mell, A. R. H. Anderson, H. P. Waights, L. F. Knight, H. R. Bond, L. R. Barnett-Smith, C. E. M. de Bretton, A. R. MacKillop, H. M. Smith, and L. A. Ives.

the wireless rights in the country as concerning three of the interested Powers. These are Britain, the United States, and Japan, and there is more than a hint of future friction unless matters be adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties. So far as general principles were affected, the idea was that the development of wireless communication in the country should follow the "open-door" policy which has been adopted in trade, and that no one of the three nations mentioned should have a definite preference over any other. Seemingly, there has not been wanting an attempt by some parties to score off others, and now, after much delay, the situation is beginning to clarify into specific developments, but to the possible detriment of at least one of the Powers concerned. About a month ago, it was indicated that Japanese and American rivalry had already reached a somewhat acute stage, with Britain, who had been more or less out in the cold, an interested spectator. It appears to be certain now that all previous British protests at virtual monopolies granted to the other nations have been in vain, and are likely to continue so. We presume that the American and Japanese interests will eventually find it more to their advantage to co-operate instead of competing—indeed there is a report that the United States has given the other party a broad hint it expects as much—but what will be of interest the average Britisher will be the ultimate position of British claims. As things are going now, it seems that we have a great deal of leeway to make up if we desire to be in the picture at all, in more than a minor capacity or out of focus in the background.

THE "SUI YICK."
MORE ARMS DISCOVERED.

The case of the steamer Sui Yick, which was brought into the harbour on Saturday evening for examination resulting from the discovery on board of Chinese soldiers and ammunition, closely occupied the attention of the authorities yesterday. The Captain Superintendent of Police (Mr. P. P. J. Wodehouse, C. I. E.) accompanied by Mr. L. V. Booth and the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, Mr. D. W. Tratman, went on board the vessel which had been brought alongside the railway pier at Kowloon and supervised the examination of the passengers and their effects. A further lot of arms, mostly of an unserviceable appearance, was taken from the cabin on the top deck. Half-a-dozen of the passengers were taken back to the Central Police Station for further enquiry, after which the Sui Yick returned to her buoy in the naval anchorage.

As indicated in yesterday's account of the case, it is the intention of the authorities to escort the 150 Chinese soldiers, who were using the ship as a transport across the border. The arms and ammunition will be, of course, confiscated, whilst the ship itself will in all likelihood be returned to her original owners, who are a local company.

PLAY AND PLAYERS.

RUMJAHNS WIN TIENSIN DOUBLES.

By "Wanderer."

South China are either assured of success or are not within possible reach of it. The team is made up by the old forward line, Pang Kam-wing, Sun Kam-shuen, Wong Pak-cheung, Li Wei-tong and Chan Kwong-ki and there are several very useful reserve players.

The fixtures for the coming season are as follows:

October 10	— A. v R. A.
October 17	— H. v Tamar.
October 24	— A. v Surrey.
October 31	— H. v Kowloon.
November 7	— A. v Club.
November 14	— A. v Police.
November 21	— A. v Recreio.
December 5	— A. v Tamar.
December 12	— H. v Surrey.
December 19	— H. v Kowloon.
January 2	— H. v Club.
January 9	— H. v Police.
January 16	— H. v Recreio.

The Home fixture with the Royal Artillery has yet to be arranged.

The Inter-County Relay and Team championships of the South of England which were inaugurated by the Amateur Athlete Association at Stamford Bridge recently were a great success and served to demonstrate that we shall do better in the Olympics if the inter-county spirit is properly developed on an all-embracing scale.

Relay racing has a charm all its own, and the many young runners who were seen in action showed what splendid work has been accomplished during the past few years, purely as a result of the move toward county athletics.

Eleven counties were represented, some only in one or two contests, but the enthusiasm all round was unbounded, and though Middlesex, the strongest of the counties, eventually won with a fourth in seven events.

Five of the events were team relays, and "C" Company gained first place in the 30 yards dash (each of the four swimmers was required to swim the 30 yards) first in the sixty yards free style and first in the sixty yards breast stroke.

They also won the 440 yards team race, Burgess being second man home and the remaining members of the team being close up in a bunch. The first home Pte. Edwards of "A" Company, swam a magnificent race and won by at least 100 yards.

"B" Company gained two firsts but did little else and the second place in the aggregate was taken by Red Wing with a first, a dead heat second, two thirds, fourth fifth and sixth to their credit.

PROSPECTS OF HONGKONG LEAGUE CLUBS.

No.—6 South China Athletic.

South China, runners-up last season, are just finding their feet and are out to go one better during the coming campaign. The only player of note lost to them is Lai Yuk-tat, and his place is being taken by Ng Kam-chuen who in a few practice games so far has demonstrated that South China will suffer little by the loss of Lai.

Lai Hing-chueng will defend the goal, Chan So is as fit as ever he was, and their half-back line Leung Yuk-tong, Wong Shui-wa, and Lam Yuk-ying can still be regarded as one of the strongest middle lines in the league.

Some dismay has been caused by the announcement that it is possible Li Wai-tong might leave for the country soon after the season starts, but we doubt whether he will go until South

The final league table of the Minor Counties Cricket Championship is to hand and it shows Northumberland at the head with seven matches won of seven completed games. In the South, Buckinghamshire, who played in only seven games, were outstanding, their average being .92 per cent. Four of their matches were won, first innings points were gained in a fifth game and the other two were no-decision contests. Last year's champions had needs to rest content with .60 per cent. Only two of eight games started were played to a conclusion, and Berkshire won both.

At the annual meeting of the New Zealand Insurance Company, whose local agents are Messrs. Holyoak, Massey and Co., the shareholders were informed that the directors recommended that a sum of £118,700 should be distributed by way of dividend for the year, being equivalent to a dividend at the rate of 1s. 7d. per share. In order to meet this increase in dividends it would not be necessary to draw on the underwriting profits for more than £7,154.

MILITARY CAPTAIN ON TRIAL.

symptoms he had described were all those of chronic alcoholism. He did not know of neuritis following influenza.

At this stage, Mr. Turner raised the question of a quicker trial, and a military shorthand writer was then sworn in.

NOT INFLUENZA.

Mr. Turner elicited that Capt. Dickin had been for six weeks in hospital shortly before the date of the charge. He asked the witness: "Did you know that the diagnosis of his complaint was influenza?" Witness: "Yes, and it was I who ordered the diagnosis to be changed."

In reply to further questions, Col. Fitzgerald said that he had seen accused in the bar on board ship very frequently.

Did you spend most of your time in the bar coming out on the ship so that you saw Capt. Dickin there? —I spent a considerable time there each day reading and playing cards.

Did you count Capt. Dickin's drinks? —No.

The President remarked that the questions were verging on the unreasonable. They could give senior officers credit for judging such matters without actually counting.

Mr. Turner said he would apologize for any inference his last question might appear to have contained.

The next witness was Major R. R. Lewis, R.A.M.C., who gave corroborative evidence as to the examination in the Bowen's Road Hospital.

Corroborative evidence was also given by Major H. R. Edwards, R.A.M.C., who said that the symptoms were compatible with alcoholic poisoning.

Capt. R. F. Walker, M.C., R.A.M.C., said he had known the accused for two and a half years. He knew he had been in the habit of over-indulging in alcohol.

Where have you been in the habit of seeing him? asked Mr. Turner. Capt. Walker replied: I have lived in the Peak Hotel with him and I have seen him in the Hongkong Club.

The prosecution was then closed.

FOUND GUILTY.

Accused called no witnesses but Mr. Turner, addressing the Court, detailed the illnesses from which accused had suffered ever since his arrival in the Colony, including several attacks of malaria and severe influenza. In view of the fact that accused next year would be entitled to a gratuity of £1,000 if he were found guilty, the sentence would include the loss of that sum besides his loss of position and the possible erasure of his name from the dental register.

If there was the least possible doubt, the Court should take it into consideration.

The accused was found "guilty," and sentence will be promulgated in due course. His record showed eight years service to count towards gratuity.

MARSHAL LYAUTAY RESIGNS.

French Offensive Interfered With

Fez, Sept. 28.

At a meeting of the Administrative Council of French Morocco, Marshal Lyautay, the Resident

Gen. Lyautey.

General, announced that he had asked the French Government to replace him.—Reuter.

Paris, Sept. 28.

Messages from Fez state that ominous rainstorms are falling in the Taza region, which, is presaging the beginning of the rainy season, are likely to delay the maturity of the French plans for a considerable time. The Mouna river has over-flooded, temporarily dislocating telegraphic communication between Fez and Taza. At present the Rifles are trying to occupy the centre of the stage by counter-attacking at several points. Sharpshooters are harassing the French garrison at Bibane, but the French claim not only to have repulsed these attacks but succeeded in advancing slightly at a point in the eastern sector.—Reuter.

Paris, Sept. 28.

A communiqué from Fez states that rain stopped military movements which were however resumed when Abd el Krim after bringing up reinforcements unsuccessfully attempted to occupy several important posts. Abd el Krim threatens dire vengeance on the tribes who submitted to the French after he had anticipated the defeat of the Sancti-Louis.—Reuter.

It is regarded as likely that

Marshal Petain will temporarily assume the administrative in-addition to the military direction of Morocco. Marshal Lyautey's resignation will be accepted by the Cabinet.—Reuter.

CORRESPONDENCE.

LIMCHOW NOTES.

LESS ANTI-FOREIGNISM.

(Our Own Correspondent)

Limchow, Sept. 24. Limchow shares with Pakhol in the calm that has succeeded the recent anti-foreigner storm. On the surface, at any rate, there are no signs of any trouble. As one walks through the streets an occasional schoolboy scowls and murmurs the word "Shart!" (kill) under his breath, just by way of obfuscation; but, for the rest, people seem quite prepared to be friendly.

There has been some activity against robbers lately, in the country districts, and a number have been captured and brought bound to Limchow.

A prospectus has been issued of a scheme for continuing the motor-road on to Lingshan, another 80 miles or so. The total cost is estimated at $180,000, and is made up as follows:—Purchase of land $15,000; preparing road-bed $50,000; metalling surface $20,000; making bridges $30,000; building houses $18,000; purchase of cars $35,000; telephones, police clothing, firearms, trees, etc. $12,000. The idea has been talked about for many years, and now that the section from Pakhol through Limchow to Shekhang has proved a fair success, it is possible that the continuation to Lingshan may materialise before long, if civil war does not interfere too much.

During August, misfortune fell on the C.M.S. church (St. Barnabas) just outside the south gate of the city. Apparently white-ants had attacked one of the main roof-beams just at the main where it was hidden in the wall, with the result that it broke off short and let half of the roof collapse. Fortunately the catastrophe took place in the middle of the night, when no one was inside the church, so no lives were lost, but it is a serious blow to have to face such a heavy expense at the present distressful time. The building of the new Preaching Hall, which was stopped by the students three times over, is now being allowed to proceed without any further obstruct-

THE TRADE LOAN.

[To the Editor of the Hongkong Telegraph.]

Sir,—On the 24th inst. you published a leading article entitled "Financing Trade," the opinions expressed in which were, in my opinion, quite sound, as also were those in your article "The Trade Loan" appearing in your paper on Saturday last. Three million sterling is not a small sum, and, as you have said, it should be employed for the purpose of aiding legitimate trade.

Whether or not speculations on share or property are legitimate trade is doubtful. Personally, I condemn the speculators as robbers of the community. Instead of using their money for productive purposes, they used it to speculate, expecting unearned increment, and the result of such speculation caused our middle class to live in dear houses, to buy dear goods and to be more and more luxurious, thus injuring the legitimate trade of the Colony.

The present financial stringency is a punishment of those speculators by God, just as robbers are punished in the police courts. If the loan is used to finance these speculators, is it not the same as encouraging robbers?

I think it is very important for the Government to establish a special bureau for the purpose of receiving applications, investigating each case on its merits and applying the money only to concerns which, by its use, can materially aid the free flow of commerce, as suggested by you, driving the what are called "big merchants"—in reality, big speculators—out of the door.—Yours,

CHAN TSE-PEI.

Scene in the little town of Borculo, near Zutphen, after the passing of the great storm across Eastern Holland. Four persons were killed, two hundred were injured, and two thousand were rendered homeless by the destruction of their dwellings. Trees were uprooted and shattered by the violence of the wind and many houses were unroofed, the effect of the visitation being comparable to the havoc of an artillery bombardment. A number of villages also suffered. ("Times" copyright photograph).

The Galilee Skull.

The main fragment, the frontal bone of the skull of a primitive man, which was discovered in a cave near Tabgha, to the north of Tiberias, in Palestine. The prodigious development of the supra-orbital ridges, the receding and undeveloped forehead, and the thickness of the bone are characteristic features of the Neanderthal Man of Europe. The discovery is of importance in showing that he existed in Asia also. The find was made by Mr. Turville-Petre, who was excavating on behalf of the British School of Archaeology in Jerusalem. EUROPEAN LETTER.

(By Milton Bronner for the Telegraph.)

London, Aug. 27th.—You see them on the streets of London these days, fair-haired young men, often hatted, with knapsacks on their shoulders, stout walking sticks in their hands, and their legs encased in puttees.

And you seem to remember seeing their like in various places in Switzerland, Italy and Norway. Then one addresses a remark to his companion and you are sure. They are talking in German. They are German university students spending their summer vacation wandering about around England.

It's their first invasion since the war. For a long time they were shy about venturing upon British soil, but this year many of them have broken the ice and have secured from the British Government permits to visit here for a period of six weeks.

They are very earnest. If divinity students, they specialize in cathedrals. If they are taking a bachelor of arts course, you see them putting around all the shrines connected with the great British writers. If they intend to be business men, you see them in the mills and factories.

And speaking of foreigners in Britain, the United States is sending a larger contingent this year than usual. And the pained comments of the "newspapers" are very funny to read. You see, none of these Europeans make any bones about it. They welcome us for our dollars. The more we spend, the heartier the welcome.

But the grumblers of the complaint about the Americans who have come this year is that they are not spenders. Hotel porters gravely assure you these "Yanks" are not as "good a class" as they used to get before the war. What they really mean is that before the war the only Americans who came over were rich folk who had lots of money but no brains.

The people who come over now have lots of brains, but not much money. They have come over not to splurge, not to impress hotel flunkies, but to broaden their education by getting the most they can out of foreign travel. And the average American can be prouder of them than of the mere idle rich who think their dollars cover a multitude of sins including empty skulls.

Speaking of holidays—tens of thousands of workers in factories and mills in Lancashire and Yorkshire are now enjoying their "wakes."

For a whole year long the workers in some town will contribute each week to a fund. The whole purpose of the saving is to have money with which to go on holiday. That's the "wakes." The huge sums accumulated for the purpose may be gathered from the fact that in 14 Lancashire towns the total amount thus saved ran up to the very respectable figure—$1,000,000.

Hence all during August trains going to the seashore, boats going to the Isle of Man and to Ireland have been crammed with workers and their families.

Economists may gravely discuss whether Britain is on the downward path commercially, but the average Lancashireman or Yorkshireman will have his holidays just the same.

* * *

There are Frenchmen who say that the middle name of their Prime Minister—Paul Prudent Painlevé—will have to be changed to "Imprudent." He has taken more risks than any premier within recent memory.

Not long ago, desiring to get firsthand knowledge of the serious military situation in Morocco, Painlevé flew the long and somewhat dangerous distance.

And at once, upon his return, having to review the French naval fleet, he was not satisfied until he went aboard a submarine and had the officers submerge it and go for a cruise underneath the waters.

* * *

The most soft-hearted juries in the world, up to now, have been those of France and America. Especially when it comes to women defendants.

Lately in the United States, however, there has been a healthy reaction against "Indies" who kill buying what they take a fancy to. For instance, the other day in Fleet Street an auctioneer sold a book of Syrian stamps. And in these hard times all it fetched was $1,500.

There is Zizi, for instance. She has another name, but the jurors knew her mainly as Zizi. She had

THE EISTEDDFOD.

Better Musical Standard Needed.

We have reached the end of the Royal National Eisteddfod with some regrets and some rejoicing, comments an Observer correspondent. There is an unmistakable tendency to commercialise the proceeding, and the townspeople have certainly done their share, as, in one case two shillings was demanded for a pot of tea for one person.

This, however, unfortunately, cannot be checked by the organizers of the Eisteddfod. They can only control the artistic side of the festival, and in this respect they attracted only a low standard of entry in the musical section, which, of course, has always been the backbone of past Eisteddfods, though other sections have been encouraged and carried out on an ambitious scale.

This year's Eisteddfod has been a very great success financially, which also means in attendance, but if popularity is to be maintained among the masses of Wales a much higher standard of musical entrants must be attracted and the programme run to time. This morning, for instance, the proceedings were due to begin at 9.30, but did not start until 10.15.

This morning was given to a general straightening up. There were violin solo, contralto solo, and rural choir competitions, and, by way of diversion, there were slate-splitting competitions. The evening concerts have been generally good, and the performance of "The Messiah" last night was excellent under Sir Walford Davies. The Welsh Symphony Orchestra gave the best performance that I have heard them give. They are rapidly developing into a first-class combination, but need more practice together.

THE ORDER OF MUT.

Absurdities of the Age.

While England and other parts of the Empire have some queerly-named societies, such as the Druids, Oddfellows, and such-like, our American cousins seem to do little in giving their associations the most bizarre titles that one can think of with a result that is always amusing and sometimes excruciatingly funny.

There are orders of Bears, Blue Geese, Bugs, Camels, Dogs, Elks, Moose, Mice, Goshawks, Larks, Lions, Monkeys, Owls, Red Roosters, Serpents, Shrimps, White Rabbits, and White Rats. It is when one comes to the titles inflicted on the officers of these orders that the risible faculties are really tested.

Among the most far-fetched are the Sapient Screecher of the Owls, the Grand High Cur of the "Yellow" Dogs, the Deputy Head Cheese of the Cheese Club of the Knights of Columbus, the Imperial Chief Mut, the Hiero, Glyph of the Ancient Order of Muts, the Senior Hoo-Hoo, the Supreme Gu-Gu, and last, if not least, the Most Loyal Ganger, who may have for company, if he wishes, the Supreme Thrice Infamous Interior Gu-Gu, but he would do well not to choose a dark night if names go for anything.

There are Frenchmen who say that the middle name of their Prime Minister—Paul Prudent Painlevé—will have to be changed to "Imprudent." He has taken more risks than any premier within recent memory.

Not long ago, desiring to get firsthand knowledge of the serious military situation in Morocco, Painlevé flew the long and somewhat dangerous distance.

And at once, upon his return, having to review the French naval fleet, he was not satisfied until he went aboard a submarine and had the officers submerge it and go for a cruise underneath the waters.

The "new-rich" are an old story. The "new-poor" is a newer tale. It's the term people like to apply to themselves because of the high taxation they endure and because of the high cost of living. But just the same this new-poorness doesn't seem to prevent them buying what they take a fancy to. For instance, the other day in Fleet Street an auctioneer sold a book of Syrian stamps. And in these hard times all it fetched was $1,500.

There is Zizi, for instance. She has another name, but the jurors knew her mainly as Zizi. She had Japan.

The Shih Chich News Agency learns from its own correspondent in Tokyo that the Japanese Government has decided to bring up the following questions in the coming Tariff Conferences, to be held in Peking, Oct. 26:

1. To work out a plan for the amortization of Japanese loans to China by the increased Customs receipts.
2. Protection of Japanese merchants incidental to the increased tariff schedule.
3. Preparation for the abolition of Likin.
4. That an amount of the increased Customs receipts be deposited in the Yokohama Specie Bank.
5. Strict prohibition of the boycott of Japanese goods.
6. Methods of Sino-Japanese economic co-operation.
7. More Japanese to be employed in the Chinese Customs service.

CRACK SHOTS.Swiss Riflemen Defeat American Team.

Saint Gall, Switzerland, September 2.—The United States Rifle Team, winners of the Olympic Meet last year, received a setback at the hands of the Swiss team in International rifle tournament. Switzerland won with a total of 5,385 points to 5,246 for the Americans, who finished second.

The individual scores follows: Hartmann, Switzerland, 1,109; Lienhard, Switzerland, 1,103—which also beat the world's record; Zimmermann, Switzerland, 1,062; Dodson, United States, 1,059; Reich, Switzerland, 1,055; Pelli, Switzerland, 1,054; Boles, United States, 1,054; Coulter, United States, 1,052; Fisher, United States, 1,050, and the other American, Morgan, scored 1,031.

In shooting from a prone position two Swiss riflemen led the list of scores—Hartmann with 384 and Lienhard with 381. Three Americans followed—Sergeant R. O. Coulter, 377; Sergeant Morris Fisher, 374, and Ensign A. M. Morgan, 371. Other scores were: Reich, Switzerland, 369; Burand, France, 367; Schaefer, Holland, 361; Parmentier, France, 348.

In firing from the kneeling position the descendant of William Tell again beat the Americans. Hartmann scored 376, beating the world record which another Swiss, Staeli, with 394 set at Biarritz in 1912. Hartmann's teammate, Zimmermann, scored 354; then came Coulter of the American team with 350; Pelli of Switzerland with 344, and Boles and Fisher, Americans, with 344 and 341, respectively.

Beginning the firing from a standing position, Morgan of the United States made 322. The International Rifle Union has decided to hold the 1926 tournament at Rome.

The centenary of Louis Braille, the Frenchman who by the invention of printing in relief made it possible for the blind to read by touch, was celebrated last month by a series of fêtes at the Paris National Blind Institution. An eulogy of Braille was delivered by Prof. Pierre Villey himself blind from the age of four. This was followed by a concert given by an orchestra formed of old pupils of the institution and led by Mr. Marty, the blind composer and winner of the first prize at the Paris Conservatory. Many professional men and women, former pupils in the school, came to do homage to the memory of the man whose invention made it possible for them to follow liberal careers.

Next, Dr. Hartman plans to explore the sections of ancient Carthage which now lie on the floor of the Mediterranean off the coast of Africa.

If he is successful, he plans to have a diving bell which will permit him to go even deeper into the mysterious regions of the deep ocean.

THE NEW CHINA.Unpleasant Tendencies.

Our Peking correspondent today makes reference to the wave of sensational stories regarding Chinese women that appears to be passing over the capital of China. He states that both in the English language and vernacular newspapers, sandwiched between solemn accounts of the Customs Conference and the kidnappings of Mr. Eugeno Chen and Dr. Howard, there appears a procession of frivolous or scandalous items concerning brides, concubines and girl students.

"In Shanghai we have not been entirely free of this registrable epidemic, and of late local vernacular papers have accepted advertisements stating that so-and-so has contracted with so-and-so to live in a state of free love, or that parties named have decided to terminate a contract so to live. This is going a great deal farther than Peking's morbid pursuit of scandal but it is quite likely that the capital has joined Canton and Shanghai in following the doctrines of a section of Bolsheviks in the respect named. Not that immorality of this type is so rampant in Russia as many would have us believe."

Those who have a wide knowledge of Chinese have been heard to remark in past years that the lower classes converse on the street about little else than money or women. But any extension of unhealthiness of mind to the semi-educated and educated classes is most deplorable. We hope it is only a passing phase, and that little impression will be made by it upon the youth of China.—Shanghai Times.

CITY'S GUESTS.Ten Thousand Children.

The Corporation of London had many guests at the British Empire Exhibition the other day. Chief among them were the Duke and Duchess of York. Next in dignity were a thousand or so representatives of the Empire and the nation, the City and the administrative County of London, and the Wembley official staff.

Lost in degree, but overwhelming in number, came a solid body of 10,000 children from London elementary schools. Altogether it was a wonderful day—as wonderful as it was hot. The exhibitors gave away an inordinate number of samples and pamphlets, so that small boys must have been seized with a passion for cooking and small girls acquired the power of giving their mothers hints on the management of a house.

From one information office in the Canadian Pavilion alone over two tons of booklets were distributed, including copies of the descriptive atlases, "Canada West" and "Canada East," and of the pamphlet, "Canada, the New Homeland." The other Dominion pavilions distributed literature on a similar scale. The Stadium presented one of its most impressive scenes when the 10,000 packed the stands opposite the Royal box to hear the Duke of York's speech, and afterwards to see the circus. It was an orderly array, and intensely quiet until as decorum was required.

But afterwards, how the children cheered! It was hard to believe that they had not practised for a long time. The shout rose and swelled and passed over the great little crowd as though such a wind as transforms a field of corn had suddenly found voice. Then they sang "God Save the King" with a fervour that was none the less touching because it was rather shrill.

TOLL OF THE WILD.Indian's Annual Death Roll.

The annual returns showing the mortality from wild animals and venomous snakes during 1924 have been received from Local Government and Administrations and have been published, says an Indian Exchange.

The total number of persons killed by wild animals in British India during 1924 amounted to 2,587, as against 3,605 in the previous year. Tigers were responsible for 1,174 deaths, leopards for 406, wolves for 419, bears for 82, elephants for 41, and hyenas for 19. Death were highest from tigers and leopards in Madras, for wolves in the United Provinces, from bears in Bihar and Orissa, and from elephants in Assam. Of the 446 deaths from "other animals," about 53 are assigned to wild pigs and 213 to crocodiles and alligators. The highest number of deaths from all wild animals occurred in Madras (64), the United Provinces, Bihar and Orissa and Berar coming next in order. The mortality in the majority of the provinces was less than in the previous year, but in Bombay and Burma it was slightly greater.

SNAKE BITES.
Deaths from snake bite fell from 19,990 to 19,867. Decrees occurred in Madras, Bombay, and the United Provinces, but Bengal, the Punjab, Bihar and Orissa, the Central Provinces and Berar, Assam have reported increases. During the year under review 21,032 wild animals were reported to have been destroyed, of which 1,706 were tigers, 5,202 wolves. A sum of Rs. 1,711,700 was paid in rewards, against Rs. 165,367 in the previous year. The statistics of the number of the snakes destroyed have been discontinued in Burma. In the other provinces the number destroyed increased from 42,911 to 47,106, and the rewards paid for their destruction were Rs. 1,403 as against Rs. 317 in the previous year.
